FIXED-ENGLISH DISPLAY KEYPAD

WITH DOOR ATTACHED

WITHOUT DOOR

Honeywell's 6149EX Fixed-English Keypad is compact in size with a portrait style design to fit more applications and has an attractive white console that blends in perfectly with any décor. The 6149EX features a backlit Fixed English display that shows three-digit zone numbers for higher-end systems and contains a contoured, removable door that conceals soft-touch illuminated keys.

The 6149EX programs and displays exactly like the 6150 keypad, making installation, training and operation simple. There are four, fully programmable function keys that can be customized for quick arming, controlling lights and garage doors and panics to alert fire, police, medical or other emergency response personnel. Colored, self-adhesive labels are included for the function keys.
